THE CHANGING NEEDS OF OUR STUDENTS

R

Life as a student can be overwhelming at times. Each year, we see a Greater number of students facing stress and anxiety ISSUES, fighting cold and flu symptoms, and struggling with depression. These concerns, among others, are associated with lower GPA's and a higher probability of dropping out of college.

At the UO, we Strive to provide exceptional health and counseling services to help students Manage stress and take care of their personal health. As the healthcare needs of our students change, our Health Center and Counseling and Testing Center are continuously adapting to try and keep up. By modifying our healthcare business model, we will better meet the needs of our students and ensure our Ducks are healthy and successful.

THE CHANGING HEALTHCARE WORLD

The Affordable Care Act is driving change throughout the national healthcare market. Mandatory health coverage for all creates ripples throughout every community, and the UO is no different. We must take a thoughtful and proactive approach to ensure our students are appropriately served and covered so they aren't left struggling to find affordable insurance or facing government fines. The mandatory requirement has increased the demand for high-deductible plans to keep acquisition costs low. But, high-deductible plans and their cost structure create additional expenses to access services. These costs can be burdensome for our students. As a university, it is Critical that we provide exceptional health and counseling Services to ensure our students stay healthy and enrolled at the UO. Without the ability to bill insurance, costs for providing services on campus will not keep pace with revenues. We know we can do better for our students.

OUR CURRENT BUSINESS MODEL

The UO is committed to providing better healthcare services for our students, but our current business model poses Challenges. By changing our business model and adapting to the changing needs of our students, we will have more resources available to improve healthcare services on campus.

HOW CAN WE IMPROVE?

We are proactively seeking ways to achieve the following improvements:

- Adapt services to keep pace with changes in national healthcare policies.
- Examine possible changes in health fee structure to balance increasing service costs and prevent budget deficits.
- Improve the current "one-size-fits-all" business model to provide a more personalized healthcare experience.

- Provide students the option to bill standard health insurance for on-campus services.
- Expand spaces and facilities to meet the growing service demand.

WHAT'S NEXT? BETTER CARE FOR OUR DUCKS

At the University of Oregon, we know that our students need to be healthy to be SUCCESSFU. As the healthcare needs of our students Change, we realize they need more than what is currently provided, and we are Committed to offering them a more Dersonalized healthcare experience. The UO is proactively exploring steps we can take to Detter Care for our students and ensure they are successful at the UO and beyond.

Review of proposed changes to the Student Conduct Code and review of previously-adopted changes to the Code

STUDENT CONDUCT CODE

Guide to Proposed Changes Provided by the Division of Student Life

Introduction

Last fall, the Board of Trustees considered and adopted some permanent and temporary changes to the Student Conduct Code. Since that time, the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards, through outreach with students, faculty and staff, has completed a review of these and other suggested changes. Recommendations and comments are set forth below.

The purpose of the discussion at the May 8 meeting is to provide an update on proposed changes; there is no proposed action before trustees at this time. The Division of Student Life will bring recommended changes to the Board, via the Academic and Student Affairs Committee, at the June meeting. Between now and then, the Division of Student Life will finalize its recommendations and provided updated material for the June meeting.

Proposed Changes

I. Policy Changes

The following policy changes were enacted as temporary changes to the Student Conduct Code by the Board of Trustees on September 11, 2014. They will be proposed as permanent changes.

1. Change in adjudication model (all Administrative Conferences)

The most significant of the temporary changes enacted in September was the move to have all cases resolved by "Administrative Conferences". In the past, the accused student was able to choose between either an Administrative Conference, or a Hearing Panel, heard by the University Hearings Board. (In most cases.)

This change was made largely to provide equity to both complainants and respondents when choosing a method of resolution. This change also assured that students would never be a part of an adjudication process for sexual misconduct allegations.

As a result of this change, the University Hearings board was eliminated, and all references to it have been removed from the code. (See Comments: SW6, SW14, SW17, SW18, SW80, SW82, SW87, SW89, and SW91 for more details)

2. Change in deadlines for student response to allegations

Another temporary change approved in September changed the number of days students have to respond to allegations in all cases. Prior to the change, students had 14 days to respond (with an exemption for all school calendar breaks). As a result, the University was unable to move forward in some serious cases (Title IX, etc.) for several months due to the summer break.

The change required students to respond, by contacting the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards, within seven days of receiving a Notice of Allegation in all cases. (See Comment SW77 for more details)

3. Change in appeals process for sexual misconduct cases

A third temporary change enacted in September changed the method of appeal for cases involving Sexual Misconduct from the University Appeals Board to having appeals heard exclusively by the Vice President for Student Life.

This change assured that students (who are members of the University Appeals Board) are never involved in deciding sexual misconduct cases. (See Comment SW91 for more details)

II. Motions passed by the University Senate (Fall 2014)

During the fall 2014 term, the University Senate passed nine motions (proposed by Law Professors John Bonine and Caroline Forell) to amend sections of the Student Conduct Code, all focused on sexual misconduct. Those proposed changes are reflected in the draft code, and with two exceptions, are recommended by the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards.

- 1. Additions of the word "explicit" ahead of the word consent on three occasions within the definition of "Sexual Misconduct". This makes it consistent with other references in the code. (See Comment SW50 for more details)
- 2. A clarification that a "single episode of behavior" that meets certain standards within the definition of sexual misconduct can be sufficient for a finding of sexual misconduct. (See Comment SW11 for more details)
- 3. A change in the "Jurisdiction" section of the code that allows for a transcript hold in the case where a student has been accused of sexual misconduct to prevent the student from transferring to another institution prior the case being decided. The Senate also proposed adding reference to "sexual misconduct" for emphasis in two other places in the Jurisdiction section. (See Comments SW33, SW34, SW35 and SW36 for more details; Further review is needed to determine whether FERPA would limit the ability of the University to make this change.)
- 4. A change in the definition of sexual misconduct in the section that defines violations of the student conduct code. The goal of this change is to take away barriers to bringing forward allegations of sexual misconduct. (See Comments SW48 and SW49 for more details)
- A clarifications of guidelines for sanctions in sexual misconduct cases. It clarifies that an "educational activity will not normally be used alone" in sexual assault cases. (See Comment SW57 for more details)
- 6. Significant changes in the "Student Rights" section of the code that ensure that complainant (in all cases) receives the same procedural rights as the accused. This change promotes equity in the process in sexual misconduct cases. (See Comment SW62 for more details)
- Two changes in the "conduct procedures" section of the code. The first sets faster timelines for the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards to send a formal notice of allegation in all cases (From 6 months to 60 days, with an extension procedure built in.) (See Comment SW74 for more details)

This section also clarifies that a complaint can be filed against a "non-enrolled" student as defined in the student conduct code. (See Comment SW72 for more details)

- 8. A change in the "Alternative Dispute Resolution" section of the code that clarifies that mediation will never be used as a part of a sexual misconduct resolution process. (See Comment SW106 for more details)
- 9. (A) This change clarifies that the complainant is entitled to an equal right as the accused to have an advisor in sexual misconduct cases. (See Comment SW75 for more details)
- 9. (B) The Senate passed a change that "entitles" a complainant to be represented by a legal advisor at the University's expense, if the accused retains a legal advisor. (See Comment SW79 for more details Further review is needed as there is no dedicated funding for this change.)

III. Further Recommended changes by the Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards

 The Code currently authorizes the Community Standards Committee to seek written reports of the disposition of all student conduct cases. This language could be interpreted to authorize the release of details of such conduct cases, which would not be allowed under FERPA. It will be recommended that the Board acts to remove this section. (See comments SW64 and SW67 for more details)

IV. Recommended Non-Substantive Changes

1. New numbering system

With the governance changes at the UO, and the movement away from Oregon Administrative Rules dictating the Student Conduct Code, the Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards advises that the old numbering system is retired, in favor of a simpler, and more student friendly system. (See Comments SW1, SW12 et al. for examples.)

2. Removal of Gendered language

In compliance with best practice, any reference to gendered pronouns in the Student Conduct Code has been removed. (See Comments SW3, SW4, and SW9 for examples)

3. Modernization of Terms/Correct titles

Some terminology in the code has not been reviewed since the last major overhaul in 2006. The staff of the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards reviewed the language both for relevance and to ensure that University entities and titles that have changed since 2006 have been updated (e.g. updating "Student Affairs" to "Student Life"). (See Comments SW5, SW10, SW13 et al for examples)

4. Movements of sections

The staff of the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards reviewed the code and recommends moving certain sections to make it more user and student friendly. (See Comment SW97 for an example)

5. Removal of "judicial" and adversarial language

To better align with SCCS philosophy and practice, staff has worked to remove traditionally adversarial language throughout the code. (See Comment SW7 for an example)

V. Reminder of Permanent Changes

This section seeks simply to remind readers of permanent changes enacted by the Board of Trustees in September.

1. Off Campus Jurisdiction

The Student Conduct Code now has jurisdiction over significantly more student behavior that occurs off campus. This change mainly affected the University's opportunity to respond to quality of life issues that have caused consistent concerns to our University's neighbors. (See Comments SW30 and SW32 for more details)

- Change in standard of evidence for the sanction of expulsion Making all decisions in the student conduct code (both responsibility and sanctions) based on a preponderance (more likely than not) standard. In the past, expulsion was decided by a higher, clear and convincing, standard. (See Section 2, 5(h) of the code for more details)
- Change in definition of "Sexual Misconduct" Clarification that consent must be explicit. (See section 2, paragraph 29)
- 4. Change in authority over changes to the Student Conduct Code Aligned the Conduct Code with state law and university policy, clarifying that the Board of Trustees has exclusive authority over changes to the Student Conduct Code. Previously, changes to the code were approved by both the Student Conduct Committee and the UO Senate, and then authorized by the President. (See Comment SW21 for more details)

STUDENT CONDUCT CODE (Draft 4/20/2015)

571-021-0100 Section 1: Student Conduct Policies

Formatted: Not Strikethrough

Commented [SW1]: Changed to be more consistent with practice

I. Mission

- 1. The primary mission of the Student Conduct Code is to set forth the community standards and procedures necessary to maintain and protect an environment conducive to learning and in keeping with the educational objectives of the University of Oregon. Founded upon the principle of freedom of thought and expression, an environment conducive to learning is one that preserves the freedom to learn -- where academic standards are strictly upheld and where the rights, safety, dignity and worth of every individual are respected.
- 2. Learning is a process defined by the exchange of ideas and the advancement of knowledge. As such, learning entails a community of scholars united by their participation in, and commitment to, intellectual exchange. The University is, first and foremost such a community. Learning also involves reflecting on decisions and improving decision-making in the future. By establishing the standards of this community, the Student Conduct Code serves not just as a disciplinary system, but also as a part of the educational system. Hence, a corollary mission of the Student Conduct Code is to teach students to live and act responsibly in a community, setting, with respect for the rights of other students and members of that community, and for the property, common resources, code of conduct, and laws associated with that community, and to encourage the development of good decision-making and personal integrity.
- 3. Students are simultaneously members of the University community and the broader community (e.g. city, state, nation, and world). The Student Conduct Code, and the processes of its administration and enforcement, is directed specifically toward maintaining the standards of the University community. Within its jurisdiction the University may impose disciplinary sanctions against students or student organizations when their conduct materially interferes with the educational objectives of the University or university community member.

If a student withdraws after a complaint has been made but before a decision is rendered, the transcript will be withheld until the disciplinary process is concluded. Complaints of sexual misconduct, academic dishonesty or fraudulently obtaining a degree may be filed at any time, whether or not the student is currently enrolled or registered.

(5) In all cases except sexual misconduct, academic dishonesty or fraudulently obtaining a degree, the University must file disciplinary complaints under the Student Conduct Code within six months of:

(a) The University's discovery of the student's or student organization's involvement in the alleged violation; and no later than

(b) The student's last date of enrollment or registration, or an organization's recognition.
(6) Allegations of sexual misconduct-academic dishonesty or fraudulently obtaining a degree _____may be considered at any time regardless when the alleged misconduct occurred.
(7) Students may be accountable both to civil and criminal authorities and to the University for behavior that constitute violations of the law and the Student Conduct Code. Since the action of civil and criminal authorities is independent from University action, the University may decide whether to initiate or consider an alleged violation of the Student Conduct Code while criminal charges are pending or before they are filed or after they are resolved.

(i) Contempt of adjudicative proceedings including impairing or interrupting the due course of proceedings in the presence of any tribunal process created under this Code. Adjudication of contempt and imposition of sanctions may be imposed summarily consistent with 571-021-0240 procedures outlined in this code.

(2) Standards Relative to Respect for Property and for Shared University Resources. The following conduct violates standards of respect for property and shared University resources:

(a) Engaging in behavior that could reasonably be foreseen to cause disruption of, obstruction of, or interference with the process of instruction, research, administration, student discipline, or any other service or activity provided or sponsored by the University;

(b) Damage, destruction, theft, or unauthorized use of property located on the University campus or property owned or controlled by the University;

(c) Unauthorized entry into or use of University property or University-recognized living units, facilities, residence halls, equipment, or resources;

(d) Disorderly conduct (including that resulting from the use of alcohol), unreasonable noise, or conduct that results in unreasonable annoyance;

(e) Failure to comply with the reasonable directions of public officials acting in performance of their duties on University Premises or at a University Sponsored Activity when such conduct poses a danger to personal safety or property or obstructs or impairs educational or other Institutional activities;

(A) Use of electronic forums to violate other sections of the Student Conduct Code;

(B) Sharing of accounts or computer lab passes;

(C) Violation of electronic privacy;

(3) Standards Relative to the Rights of Individuals and to the Welfare of the University Community. An environment conducive to learning is one where the rights, safety, dignity and worth of every individual are respected. The following conduct endangers such an environment, and threatens the welfare of the University community as a whole:

(a) Physical contact that endangers, threatens, or harms the health or safety of any person or behavior that causes a reasonable person to fear such contact;

(c) Possession, use, or threatened use of a weapon, ammunition, or any object or substance used as a weapon on University Premises or at a University Sponsored Activity unless expressly authorized by law or University Policy. A concealed weapons permit does not constitute authorization;

(d) Unauthorized possession, use, or threatened use of dangerous chemical or biological substances or explosives;

(e) Tampering with fire-fighting equipment, turning in a false alarm, or engaging in conduct that constitutes a significant fire hazard;

(f) Harassment, as defined in 571-021-0105(17), this code because of another person's race, ethnicity, color, gender, gender identification, national origin, age, religion, marital status, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, or for other reasons, including but not limited to harassment prohibited by University Policy.

(g) Unwanted Contact, as defined in 571-021-0105(38); in this code

(h) Sexual Misconduct. A mission of the Student Conduct Code is to encourage good decision making, personal integrity, and interpersonal behavior that is cooperative rather than coercive and that respects the rights of others. Sexual misconduct violates these values, and is committed when a student engages in sexual behavior described in 571-021-0105(30). As defined in this code

 (A) A complaint alleging Sexual Misconduct may be filed whenever Sexual Misconduct:

 (i) Materially interferes with another person's academic performance or participation in a University Sponsored Activity, or performance of University employment;

(ii) Is committed on University Premises or at a University Sponsored Activity; or

(iii) Demonstrates reasonable threat to the health or safety of a Member of the University Community or the alleged student survivor.

(B) (A) Sexual gratification or pleasure of any party involved is not relevant to a determination of whether Sexual Misconduct occurred.

(C) (B) A violation of provisions of the alcohol or drug policy in the Student Conduct Code does not affect a person's ability to file a complaint regarding another person's Sexual Misconduct on the same occasion.

(D) (C) Consent to one form of sexual activity does not automatically operate as explicit consent to any other form sexual activity. A "no" always means that explicit consent is not present, whereas a "yes" to one act at one time does not mean "yes" to other acts or to the same act at other times. Voluntarily making oneself incapacitated does not mean one is giving explicit consent to any form of sexual activity.

(j) Prohibited alcohol use, which includes:

(A) Possession or consumption of alcohol by those under 21 years of age on University Premises or at a University Sponsored Activity;

(B) Furnishing of alcohol to a person under 21 years of age; or

This includes, but is not limited to, surreptitiously taking pictures of another person in a gym, locker room, or restroom.

571-021-0130 VI. Sanctions

The University utilizes an educational sanctioning model; hearing officers administrators will make every attempt to provide an educational sanction that will help a student to make better choices in the future. The educational sanction applied will become progressively more demanding if the student repeats violations, demonstrating that learning has not taken place. An accumulation of a variety of violations including sexual assault may result in severe sanctions such as suspension, expulsion or negative notation on a transcript. Academic dishonesty and violations affecting the health, safety and well being of the community anyone are deemed the most severe and may result, upon the first violation, in a negative notation being placed on a transcript, suspension, or expulsion.

(1) Forms of Sanctions

(a) Expulsion. Student status is severed permanently. A Student who has been expelled from the University shall not be permitted to participate in any University Sponsored Activity or allowed to reside on University Premises.

(b) Suspension.

(A) Individual Suspension. Student status is severed for a specified period. A student who has been suspended from the University shall not be permitted to participate in any University Sponsored Activity or allowed to reside on University Premises during the period the student is suspended.

(B) Group Suspension. A Student Organization loses University recognition and all privileges associated with such recognition for a specified period. Imposition of this sanction against the ASUO or a recognized Student Organization requires approval by the Vice President for Student Life.

(c) Negative Notation on Transcript. Entry of the fact of violation on the Student's permanent academic record as the sole or an additional sanction may be imposed at the discretion of the hearing officer administrator. After the expiration of the period of time, if any, set by the hearing officer, the notation shall be removed upon the request of the Student or former Student.

(d) Revocation of Degree. An academic degree previously awarded by the University may be revoked if it was obtained by fraud or a significant part of the work submitted in fulfillment of, and indispensable to, the requirements for such degree constitutes Plagiarism. The Academic Requirements Committee may, upon appeal of a University graduate subjected to degree revocation, stipulate the requirements for obtaining a degree.

(e) Grade Penalty. A Student admitting Academic Misconduct or found responsible for Academic Misconduct is subject to a grade penalty as determined by the instructor in the course in which the violation occurred.

(f) Disciplinary Probation. In lieu of another sanction, a period of probation may be imposed during which any violations of the Student Conduct Code will result in more serious sanctions than might be otherwise imposed. A Student or Student Organization on probation may or may not lose designated privileges during the period of probation. During the time on probation, a Student or Student Organization may, by demonstrating good conduct, avoid additional sanctions. Imposition of this sanction against the ASUO or an ASUO-recognized group requires approval by the Vice President for Student Life.

(g) Restitution. The Student or Student Organization is required to replace or restore damaged, stolen, or misappropriated property.

(h) Educational Activity. The Student or Student Organization is required to complete a project or activity designed to help the Student or Student Organization understand why the behavior was inappropriate and encourage future compliance with the Student Conduct Code. The educational activity is designed to correspond to the severity and nature of the violation and to clarify the impact of that behavior on Members of the University Community. Educational activities may include, but are not limited to, assessments of substance abuse and other behaviors, community service, workshops, papers and similar assignments. An educational activity will not normally be used alone for cases of unwanted penetration or nonconsensual physical contact; it should only be used in conjunction with more serious sanctions, including reprimands, notations on transcripts, and expulsions.

(i) Loss of Privileges. The Student or Student Organization is denied specified privileges normally associated with Student Status or recognized Student Organization status, such as participation in or sponsorship of University activities, use of University facilities or services, or living in University-owned or supervised housing. Imposition of this sanction against the ASUO an ASUO-recognized group requires approval by the Vice President of Student Life.

(j) Conduct Reprimand. The Student or Student Organization is given written notice that the conduct engaged in is inconsistent with University standards and expectations and informed that future violations of the Student Conduct Code may result in the imposition of more serious sanctions.

(k) Suspended Sanction. The execution of any sanction authorized under the Student Conduct Code may be suspended. When suspending a sanction, a time limit for the suspension period shall be designated, and subsequent violations of the Student Conduct Code that will terminate the suspension and result in the imposition of the original sanction shall be specified. In the absence of any such violation, the original sanction shall be deemed completed at the end of the suspension period.

(2) Medical Leave. Actions taken pursuant to University policies on medical leave shall not be deemed disciplinary sanctions within the meaning of the Student Conduct Code.

Any Member of the University Community or the public may file a complaint against a Student or non-enrolled student as defined in this code) for a violation of the Student Conduct Code. A complaint shall be prepared in writing and directed to the Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards. Any complaint should be submitted as soon as possible after the alleged violation takes place, preferably within one year. Jurisdiction is determined pursuant to 571-021-0115 Section 1 of this code. The longer one waits to file a complaint the less information is likely to be available for the hearing, therefore it is important to file a complaint as soon as possible. Once the Office of Community Standards receives a complaint, the Office has six months 60 days to send written notice to the accused Student of the complaint, unless for good cause an extension of six months is provided in writing by the Vice President for Student Life-
