- Friend/family who previously attended UO: 25% (Non-Residents), 41% (Residents)
- Family that attends the UO: 7% (Non-Residents), 17% (Residents)

Changing Behavior:

Recent cohorts are more likely to learn about UO from a friend that currently attends the UO. This is different from historic patterns where students were more likely to have friends and family who previously attended the UO. This is likely due to the influence of social media.
What websites did you use to learn about UO?

The UO webpage is the top website used to learn about the UO, used by 7 in 10 students.

Social media, particularly Instagram and YouTube, are mixed in with more formal sources such as CollegeBoard and Naviance as other ways to learn about their college options.

Non-residents who use social media to learn about UO are more likely to enroll.

How many times did you visit the UO campus?

Any visits to campus have a strong correlation with intent to enroll, particularly for out-of-state students.

For the purposes of this slide, yield = percent identifying in the survey they are coming to the UO.

Recommendations

Changes to Academic Misconduct Resolution Process

The Committee prioritized a review of the Faculty Resolution process, which instructors have often utilized to resolve academic misconduct concerns. In this process, instructors with academic misconduct concerns are expected to reach out to the accused student and provide an opportunity to meet with them to discuss the alleged incident. An accused student who acknowledges engaging in academic misconduct through this process typically also agrees to the imposition of an academic sanction from the instructor, in the form of a grade penalty. The instructor will then report the resolution of the matter, as well as the corresponding academic sanction, to SCCS to maintain in their records.

Concerns with the Faculty Resolution process were presented by all constituent subgroups represented in the Committee.

The primary concern discussed by the Committee was related to the adjudication of student conduct matters by instructors—rather than student conduct professionals—through a process that may not ensure that students are afforded the same protections and rights as in a formal student conduct review.

These rights include:

- The right for information related to their student conduct matter to remain private, as delineated by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
• The right to receive written notice of the alleged violation(s) of the Code, including the sections and corresponding definitions of the Code being used to make a finding
• The right to review all documents related to the alleged violation(s) of the Code
• The right to be accompanied by a support person
• The right to share their perspective, provide documents, and potential witness information
• The right to review and respond to all information gathered related to the alleged violation(s) through the course of an investigation

The Committee concluded that along with potentially bypassing these rights, the Faculty Resolution process may amplify inequities in the power dynamic between students and their instructors. The Committee noted that having instructors serve as both reporters and adjudicators created a conflict of interest, and feedback they received from students suggested that in some cases they felt pressure was strongly exerted on them by instructors to acknowledge violations of the Code. The feedback also suggested that instructors may have implied that acknowledging a violation through the Faculty Resolution process would result in more favorable outcomes than being referred to SCCS for a formal student conduct review.

The Committee also noted that for instructors, responsibility for administering the Faculty Resolution process—in addition to their primary academic teaching and research obligations—requires a significant time commitment, as well as a level of training that does not currently exist. The Committee found that most instructors participate in the Faculty Resolution process while unaware of the legal risk involved with imposing academic sanctions based on students acknowledging violations of the Code, under circumstances which suggest that students are not being informed of their due process rights.

The recommendation from the Committee was to eliminate the Faculty Resolution process, and for instructors to refer incidents of suspected academic misconduct directly to SCCS for review and adjudication. Responsibility for determining an appropriate academic sanction or grade penalty would remain with instructors, but only once they have been notified by SCCS that the student has acknowledged or been found responsible for engaging in academic misconduct through the formal student conduct process.

Proposed changes are provided in EXHIBIT A.

3. “Complainant” generally means the University. In reports of discrimination or harassment, Complainant may also mean the Student that has been the subject of another Student’s alleged misconduct. A Student Complainant has the same opportunities under the Student Conduct Code as are provided to the Respondent.

Student includes any person who was a student in the previous term and is eligible for registration.

9. “Student Organization” means any group of University of Oregon Students meeting the University’s criteria for organizational recognition or registration established by the University or its units, colleges, or departments. Jurisdiction is retained for behavior that occurred when the Student Organization was recognized of registered, regardless of current status.

Section III: Scope, Authority, and Jurisdiction

1. The Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards (Director) develops procedures for the administration of the student conduct system.

2. Allegations of misconduct may be reported to the Director at any time, whether or not the Respondent is currently enrolled or registered. The Director has the authority to determine whether or not the allegation merits further response, including referral to the University student conduct system.
3. The Student Conduct Code applies to each Student for behavior that occurs from the time of admission, registration, or enrollment (whichever occurs first) through the actual awarding of a degree or complete withdrawal as defined by the University, regardless of when the behavior is reported.

   a. It applies to behavior that occurs during periods of suspension from the University.
   b. It applies even if the Respondent subsequently withdraws from the University.
   c. It applies to behavior that occurs between periods of enrollment unless the Respondent completely withdraws before the deadline to register for the next term. For Students enrolled in the spring term, jurisdiction is maintained until the deadline to register for the fall term.

4. The Student Conduct Code applies to all activities on University Premises and during any University Sponsored Activity regardless of location. The University may apply the Student Conduct Code to Student behavior which occurs off-campus in which the University can demonstrate a clear and distinct interest as an academic institution regardless of where the conduct occurs and a) which causes substantial disruption to the University community or any of its members, b) which involves academic work or any University records, documents, or identifications, or c) which seriously threatens the health or safety of any person.

5. Proceedings under the Student Conduct Code are separate from civil or criminal proceedings and may, at the discretion of the Director, be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings.

Section V: Resolution Process

1. Report. The Director determines within a reasonable time whether a report alleges a potential violation of the Student Conduct Code and whether the matter should proceed through the conduct process.

2. Student Rights. If the matter will proceed through the conduct process, the Respondent will:
   a. Be informed of the alleged violation(s) and the alleged misconduct upon which the report is based.
   b. Be informed of the process.
   c. Have the opportunity to meet, in person or virtually, with a Case Manager to review the report, the process, and options for disposition of the case in advance of an administrative conference.
   d. Have the opportunity to access, prior to an administrative conference, any documentation in possession of the Director that may be relied upon in decision making, subject to limitations from policies, regulations, and State and Federal law. What documentation is available, and how it may be accessed, is defined by written procedure.
   e. Have the opportunity to respond to the allegations to the Director or their designee in an administrative conference.
      i. Have a reasonable amount of time to prepare for the conference;
      ii. Have the opportunity to propose relevant witnesses;
      iii. Have the opportunity to submit questions to the Director for witnesses involved; and
      iv. Have the opportunity to be accompanied by a Support Person

3. Notice and Administrative Conference.

   a. The Director assesses whether an informal resolution, alternative resolution, formal student conduct action, or other process is appropriate. If the Director deems formal student conduct action to be appropriate, the Director will issue a written notice to the Respondent via Respondent’s official University of Oregon e-mail address. All communications sent by the Director are considered received when sent. In cases involving Student Organizations, the notice will be emailed to the organization’s representative (normally the president on file with ASUO, the Office of Fraternity & Sorority Life, or the Center for Student Involvement).

   b. Notice. The notice will identify whether the Respondent may be subject to suspension, expulsion, or negative transcript notation. If the Director receives additional information which could elevate the potential sanction to suspension, expulsion, or transcript notation, the Director will issue a new notice to the Respondent informing them of the additional information and potential sanction(s).

   c. The Case Manager will schedule an informational meeting as a part of the above notice. The informational meeting is a meeting between a Respondent and a Case Manager to review the report and relevant information, explain the student conduct process, and review possible options for resolving the matter. Respondents need not provide a response to the allegation(s) in this meeting.

d. After the informational meeting, the Case Manager will determine whether the case requires an administrative conference. The Respondent may also request an administrative conference. A Student who agrees to resolve violations without an administrative conference may waive their right to appeal. Such a waiver will be knowing, voluntary, and explicit.

e. If the Respondent, after receiving notice of the administrative conference does not appear for the conference, the conference will proceed without the Respondent.

f. Following the administrative conference, the Case Manager, applying a preponderance of the evidence standard, will determine if any violation of the Student Conduct Code occurred. The Case Manager will determine any sanctions(s) to be imposed for violation(s). In cases involving allegations of Discriminatory Misconduct, the sanction decision will be made by the Director.

g. In determining if a Student Organization is in violation, in addition to the above, the Case Manager may consider whether:
   i. The violation arises out of a group-sponsored, organized, financed, or endorsed activity or event;
   ii. The organization provides the impetus for the violation;
   iii. The violation occurs on the premises owned or operated by the group;
   iv. A group leader has knowledge of the violation being likely to occur before it occurs and fails to take corrective action; or
   v. A pattern of individual violations is found to have existed without proper and appropriate group control, remedy, or sanction

4. Alternate Dispute Resolution Processes. The Director and Respondent may determine that an alternate dispute resolution process (facilitated dialogue, mediation, etc.) is appropriate. Any case resolved through an alternate dispute resolution process may not be appealed and does not result in a finding of a conduct violation.

5. Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. A Student requesting an accommodation must follow the appropriate process for requesting an accommodation through the Accessible Education Center. The Accessible Education Center will make a determination regarding the request and notify the appropriate parties.

6. Action Plan. When a Student or Student Organization is found to be in violation of the Student Conduct Code, the Director will develop an action plan intended to promote personal reflection and growth, repair any harm caused, and help the Student or Student Organization realign with institutional values. The following describes the outcomes and sanctions that may be imposed, individually or in various combinations, on any Student or Student Organization as part of an action plan. An administrative sanction may be deferred for a designated length of time.

   a. Outcomes.
      i. Educational Outcome: The Student or Student Organization is required to complete a project or activity designed to promote learning and prompt changes to Student behavior and prevent further misconduct. Educational outcomes may include, but are not limited to, workshops, seminars, meetings, assignments, and substance abuse assessments.

ii. Reflective Outcome: The Student or Student Organization is required to complete a project or activity designed to promote self-reflection on one’s actions and the impact of those actions on others.

iii. Restorative Outcome: The Student or Student Organization is required to complete a project or activity designed to address the impact of the behavior and repair harm caused to any person and/or community.

b. Administrative Sanctions.

i. Conduct Warning. The Student or Student Organization is given written notice that the conduct engaged in is inconsistent with University standards and expectations and informed that future violations of the Student Conduct Code may result in the imposition of more serious sanctions.

ii. Disciplinary Probation. A period of probation may be imposed during which any violations of the Student Conduct Code will result in more serious sanctions than might be otherwise imposed. A Student or Student Organization on probation may lose designated privileges during the period of probation.

iii. Suspension.

1. Individual Suspension. The Student is separated from the University for a specified period. A Student who has been suspended from the University shall not be permitted to reside in University-owned or operated facilities and may not participate in any University Sponsored Activity.

2. Group Suspension. A Student Organization loses University recognition or registration and all associated privileges for a specified period.

iv. Expulsion. The Student is permanently separated from the University. A Student who has been expelled from the University shall not be permitted to reside in University-owned or operated facilities.

v. Revocation of Degree. An academic degree previously awarded by the University may be revoked if it was obtained by fraud or a significant part of the work submitted in fulfillment of, and indispensable to, the requirements for such degree constitutes academic misconduct. The Academic Requirements Committee may, upon appeal, stipulate the requirements for obtaining a degree.

vi. University Housing Transfer or Eviction. As a result of a Student Conduct Code violation, the University may administratively transfer a resident to an alternate housing assignment, or may evict the resident from their housing assignment. Students who are evicted due to a conduct violation are no longer eligible for University Housing.

vii. Negative Notation on Transcript. Entry of the fact of violation on the Student’s permanent academic record may be imposed at the discretion of the Director. After the expiration of the period of time, if any, set by the Director, the notation is removed.

viii. Exclusion. The Student is not permitted to participate in University Sponsored Activities, or appear at or be present on all, or a specified portion of, University Premises without advance written permission from the Director.
ix. Loss of Privileges. The Student or Student Organization is denied specified privileges normally associated with Student status or recognized Student Organization status, such as participation in or sponsorship of University activities, use of University facilities or services, or living in University-owned or supervised housing.

x. Restitution. The Student or Student Organization is required to replace or restore damaged, stolen, or misappropriated property.

7. Appeals. A Respondent may choose to appeal an administrative conference decision within ten business days. The appeal goes to the designated University Appellate Body. In cases involving Discriminatory Misconduct, the Complainant may also appeal the decision to the designated University Appellate Body. Faculty may appeal an academic misconduct finding when they are the Person Reporting or the instructor of record. Appeals must be in writing, state the basis for the appeal, and be delivered as directed to the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards.

   a. Except for new information, an appeal is limited to the case file. An appeal will only be accepted for one or more of the following purposes (Basis for Appeal):

      i. To determine whether there was any procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
      ii. To determine whether the action plan imposed was appropriate for the violation(s);
      iii. To determine whether the finding is not supported by the preponderance of the evidence; and/or
      iv. To consider new information that could alter a decision, only if such information could not have been known to the appealing party at the time of the administrative conference.

   b. After considering an appeal, the University Appellate Body may either modify the action plan or send the matter back to the Director with a recommendation for additional fact finding, other resolution, or dismissal of the case. If the University Appellate Body grants an appeal on the basis of "new information" the only action the University Appellate Body may take is to send it back to the Director with a recommendation for additional fact finding, other resolution, or dismissal of the case.

Section VI: Interim Action
The Director may impose an interim action(s) regarding a Student or Student Organization when, in the professional judgement of the Director or designee, it is necessary to address a substantial and immediate threat of harm to persons or property.

1. Interim action may include, but is not limited to:

   a. Interim removal/suspension of the Student from the University;
   b. Interim removal from, or relocation within, University-owned or operated housing facilities;
   c. Restrictions on the Student’s presence on University Premises or at University Sponsored Activities; and/or
d. An administrative hold which would prevent registration and the Student from obtaining an official copy of the Student’s transcript.

2. When the interim action takes place, the Director will:

   a. Inform the Respondent of the reason for the interim action;
   b. Schedule a preliminary meeting and inform the Respondent of its date, place, and time. At the preliminary meeting, Respondent has the opportunity to explain why interim action should or should not be taken.

3. Within two business days of the interim action, the preliminary meeting takes place. The Respondent may have a Support Person in attendance.

4. Based on the reasonable evaluation of the information presented at the preliminary meeting, the Director will notify the Respondent of the decision, no later than the following business day, to:

   a. Dissolve the interim action and take no further action;
   b. Dissolve the interim action but proceed to an administrative conference; or
   c. Sustain or modify the interim action until such time as a resolution is reached following an administrative conference.

5. An interim action is reviewed by Vice President for Student Life’s Designee at the request of the Respondent. The review provides an opportunity for the requesting party to explain in writing why an interim action need no longer be imposed, or should be altered. Subsequent review of the same emergency action may be requested, at most, every ten business days.

Section VII: Academic Misconduct Procedures

Regardless of the method of resolution, relevant University Officials, including faculty members, are required to file a written report of any academic misconduct with the Director.

1. Faculty Resolution.

   a. If a faculty member suspects Academic Misconduct has occurred, that person should contact the Respondent directly. If the faculty member is unable to reach out to the Respondent for any reason, the matter must be submitted to the Director for resolution in a timely manner.

   b. Acknowledged Case. If the Respondent acknowledges the academic misconduct occurred, the faculty member must provide written notice of the resolution, including any academic sanction, to the Respondent. This notice, and a written report of the academic misconduct must then be sent to the Director within 5 business days. The Director may initiate additional action based on the circumstances or Respondent’s conduct history.

   c. Contested Case. If the Respondent does not agree that academic misconduct occurred, or does not agree to discuss the matter, the faculty member, will make a written report to the Director for resolution.

      i. If the Respondent responds to the faculty member, this report must occur within 5 business days of meeting with the Respondent.
ii. If the Respondent does not respond to the faculty member, within 5 business days, a written report must be submitted to the Director for resolution within 5 additional business days.

2.1 Director Resolution.

a. In cases of suspected academic misconduct that are reported by relevant University Officials, the case resolution will be conducted in accordance with the procedures established in this Code.

a. For cases which are not resolved through Faculty Resolution, and cases which are reported by other relevant University Officials, the case resolution will be conducted in accordance with the procedures established in this Code.

3.2 Academic Sanction.

a. If the Respondent is found in violation of academic misconduct in a course, in addition to the Action Plan imposed through the regular student conduct procedures, the faculty member may assign an appropriate academic sanction, up to and including an “F” or “N” for the course.

a. If the Respondent admits, or is found, to have engaged in academic misconduct in a course, in addition to the Action Plan imposed through the regular student conduct procedures, the faculty member may assign an appropriate academic sanction, up to and including an “F” or “N” for the course.

b. The Respondent may appeal an academic sanction to the designated University Official within the department, college, or school from which the academic sanction originated.

c. If there is a finding that the Respondent did not engage in academic misconduct, no academic sanction may be imposed.

4.3 Withdrawing from a Course.

a. A Respondent may not drop or withdraw from a course that is pending after the Respondent has been made aware of the alleged academic misconduct via notice from the Director.

a. A Respondent may not drop or withdraw from a course that is pending after the Respondent has been made aware of the alleged academic misconduct by the faculty member, or University Official, or after the Respondent receives notice from the Director.

b. If a Respondent’s academic misconduct does not result in an academic sanction, the Respondent may withdraw from the course or change the course’s grading option no later than five business days after the decision or termination of Student Conduct Code proceedings without sanction.

Section VIII: Retention of Student Conduct Records

1. Student Conduct Records and Files. Case reports will result in the development of a student conduct record in the name of the Respondent and Complainant, if applicable. These records will be maintained for a minimum of seven years in accordance with State of Oregon records policies and in compliance with federal legislation such as FERPA, the Clery Act, and Title IX.
2. Petition for non-reportable records. Respondents may, under some circumstances, petition to the Director for a conduct record to be considered “non-reportable.” The Director’s decision is discretionary and may not be appealed. If the Director is compelled to report the record by lawful order, the approved petition will not apply.

Section IX: Student Conduct Code Adoption and Revision

1. Any question of interpretation regarding the Student Conduct Code shall be referred to the Director for final determination.

2. The Student Conduct Advisory Committee provides peer perspective on matters of student conduct and academic integrity at the University of Oregon. The Committee of Students, faculty, and staff serves a tripartite purpose for supporting the university student conduct system: Advising, Advocating, and Advancing.

   a. The Committee will assist the Director by:
      i. Advising. Review and make recommendations for changes to the Code and related procedures.
      ii. Advocating. Provide educational outreach to university students, faculty, and staff.
      iii. Advancing. Explore new and innovative ways to increase student and faculty awareness of and involvement in the student conduct program.

Changes to the Academic Misconduct Process

The current process allows students and faculty to resolve allegations of academic misconduct outside of the formal student conduct process, when the student acknowledges a violation AND agrees to an outcome—which usually includes a significant grade penalty.

The proposed Code change modifies this informal process and requires allegations of academic misconduct—particularly in cases where a finding of responsibility will result in a grade penalty—to be reported to SCCS for adjudication.

This policy change does not eliminate a faculty member’s discretion on whether to refer a case to SCCS.
Positive Impact for Faculty

- Faculty and students retain the ability to resolve academic misconduct concerns informally—as long as the resolution does not include impactful grade penalty.

- Diverts potential grievance claims/legal liability from faculty to student conduct professionals, who can review concerns objectively and using a standardized process.

- Reduces faculty burden in adjudicating instances of misconduct directly. Additionally, Student conduct staff already meet with all students with reported academic misconduct, so case load will not increase for SCCS.

Positive Impact for Students

- Ensures that protections and rights embedded in the formal student conduct process are afforded to students.

- Minimizes impact of unbalanced power dynamic between faculty member and student during the review and adjudication of alleged misconduct.

Agenda Item #6

Program Approval - BA/BS in Environmental Design
The UO seeks approval from the Board of Trustees for a Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Science in Environmental Design, administered by the Department of Landscape Architecture and containing coursework from several departments within the College of Design. The new program would take effect Fall 2023.

Board approval is required before this new program is submitted to the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC), and the Academic and Student Affairs Committee may act on behalf of the Board when appropriate.

The information below is provided by the program and the Office of the Provost. All appropriate University committees, the University Senate, and the Provost have approved the proposed program. Detailed information (e.g., associated coursework, exam schedules and degree obtainment progression timelines) was provided to these bodies, and will be provided to the HECC upon request.

Describe the purpose and relationship of the proposed program to the institution’s mission and strategic plan.

The College of Design proposes to offer a multidisciplinary BA/BS in Environmental Design focusing on the visual and spatial design skills applied to the context of environmental sustainability. Administered in the Department of Landscape Architecture, this degree – the only undergraduate degree of its kind in the Pacific Northwest – will combine coursework from landscape architecture, architecture, interior architecture, planning, public administration, nonprofit management, art, art history, product design, historic preservation, geography, environmental studies, and law.

The unique multidisciplinary structure will equip students with cross disciplinary skills related to environmental challenges for a range of careers related to:

- Public and private sector open space design
- Design of green streets and urban infrastructure
- Data visualization and mapping analysis
- Parks and open space design
- Restoration and land management specialists
- Environmental justice and food security advocacy

The program will also enable more diverse populations to enter the pipeline into design professions. The courses will develop student skills for careers in visual modeling of environmental amenities, challenges, and solutions; conceptualizing, planning and implementing design solutions for the built environment; exploring sustainable options in materials and materiality; and producing compelling visual/spatial communications for environmental action. The degree will offer natural opportunities for double majors with environmental studies; environmental science; product design; art; interior architecture; and planning, public policy and management.

The Bachelor of Environmental Design degree aligns with University of Oregon’s commitment to exceptional teaching, discovery, and public service. Applied projects woven into the required curriculum will hone students’ ability to assess environmental issues critically, formulate creative and appropriate solutions, and effectively articulate these with the broadest range of audiences.

The focus on environmental challenges will utilize Oregon’s reputation for ecological diversity and innovative sustainability practices. In addition, we will harness Oregon’s ecologically fragile settings to study and apply a solutions-based curriculum. Climate crises, population migration, inequality of environmental amenities, and other issues require creative, cost-effective responses that are humane, ecologically-based, and sensitive to communities’ social needs and ways of life. Our efforts, often applied locally, will have transferrable lessons for other regions of the nation and world.

What evidence of need does the institution have for the program?

The program will attract students who are interested in sustainable design, visual and spatial design skills. It will appeal to students interested in careers ranging from urban and rural design, ecological restoration, natural hazards, visual modelling, and design solutions for the built environment.

A Persona Analysis of the College of Design’s fall enrollment of freshmen showed that students who applied to a College of Design degree (primarily architecture) gravitated toward a different university if they did not attend the UO. In the 2021-22 admissions cycle, there were over 1,000 applicants for 120 spots in the Architecture program.

Furthermore, many exploring students who discover environmental design are usually unable to pursue studies in Architecture and Landscape Architecture because accredited undergraduate programs require a sequence of studios over four to five years. This degree allows students to explore an interdisciplinary major, specialize in one of five career-oriented tracks, and enter the workforce. Students interested in a licensed professional degree will be well positioned for accredited professional programs such as Masters degrees in Landscape Architecture, Architecture, and Community and Regional Planning.

Given this untapped source of potential students, the trajectory of majors is likely very conservative, and we believe the actual enrollment will be very strong. UC Boulder, for example, had 140 degree conferrals in 2019 (Hanover report). Overall, the Hanover report found that a Bachelor of Environmental Design degree would be viable as part of a multidisciplinary program, particularly given the UO reputation for innovation, sustainability, and environmental design.
Are there similar programs in the state? If so, how does the proposed program supplement, complement, or collaborate with those programs?

This would be the first Environmental Design program in Oregon and the Pacific Northwest. Portland State University and Portland Community College both offer environmental design certificates, but no institutions offer a full bachelor’s in environmental design. The landscape architecture department has collaborated with OSU faculty in the past, and one potential track in the BEND degree could provide a pathway to the MS in Horticulture degree at Oregon State University. In developing this degree, College of Design leadership has received positive feedback from Portland State University, Oregon State University, and Southern Oregon University.

What new resources will be needed initially and on a recurring basis to implement the program? How will the institution provide these resources? What efficiencies or revenue enhancements are achieved with this program, including consolidation or elimination of programs over time, if any?

The program will utilize existing capacity in courses across the University and add capacity within existing courses in the College of Design, the College of Arts and Science, and the Law School. Almost all of the core courses already exist and enroll students in programs like Landscape Architecture and Planning, Public Policy, and Management.

In terms of staffing, the Landscape Architecture department was awarded two new faculty positions through the 2021-22 IHP process in anticipation of this program (and due to recent retirements). Additional Pro Tem/NTTF resources will be needed to increase the capacity in some of several courses that are at or near capacity. The program will require a faculty coordinator for the degree, which typically comes with a one course release. These anticipated recurring costs are outlined in a budget spreadsheet.

Based on the recommendations of the Undergraduate Council, the College has also proposed adding a student advising position as soon as possible to prepare advising materials and assist students interested in transferring into the program.
