Meeting Adjourns
Agenda Item #1

Bylaws and Policy on Retention and Delegation of Authority Amendments
The primary documents governing the University of Oregon’s Board activities are its Bylaws and Policy on Retention and Delegation of Authority. These documents provide the governing framework for the Board and clarify roles between the Board, President, and their administration. As a part of effective governance periodic review is necessary to ensure the Board’s governance is in line with best practice and in operational alignment with university procedures.

To advise the Board Chair on any necessary changes to the Bylaws and Policy on Retention and Delegation of Authority a workgroup comprised of trustees and administrators reviewed the Board’s bylaws and have made several recommendations for consideration. While many of the proposed amendments are focused on technical and clarifying adjustments, several proposed changes make more substantive adjustments. In addition to the attached redline and accompanying resolutions, below are summaries of key substantive amendments to both documents.

Board Bylaws (Exhibit A)

- Article I – No changes.
- Article II – No changes.

- Article VIII – Aligns language regarding student trustees’ ability to attend executive sessions on collective bargaining with recent updates to state statute.
- Article IX – Makes technical adjustments.
- Article X – Adds new language to align with state statute regarding the requirement trustees have institutional emails that are posted publicly.

Retention and Delegation (Exhibit B)

- Section 1 – Adds language to allow the Board Chair and Vice Chair to adjust the President’s contract provided they adjustments do not impact compensation. Moves authority of the Board to establish codes of conduct for university staff to section three, where the authority is delegated to the President. Increases financial threshold for projects or instruments needing Board authority. Moves authority to accept gifts of non-traditional investment assets and deferred gifts to the President as outlined in Section 3. Adds the UO Alumni Association to the entities that receive gifts for the university in accordance with agreements with the university. Makes technical adjustments.

ARTICLE III
Board of Trustees

1. Business and Affairs. The University shall be governed and the business and affairs of the University shall be managed by the Board of Trustees of the University of Oregon ("Board"), which may exercise all such powers, rights, duties and privileges as are expressly conferred upon the University, or that are implied by law or are incident to such powers, rights, duties and privileges. The Board may delegate and provide for the further delegation of any and all such powers, rights, duties and privileges subject to limitations expressly set forth in law.

2. Membership. The membership of the Board is established by law. With the exception of the President of the University, the Trustees are appointed by the Governor of the State of Oregon and are subject to confirmation by the Oregon Senate in the manner prescribed by law. To assist the Governor in appointing Trustees, the Board may submit recommendations to the Governor for consideration whenever there is a vacancy.

3. Vacancies. A vacancy on the Board shall exist upon the death, resignation, removal or expiration of the term of any Trustee. A Trustee may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the Governor and at least one of the following: the Chair of the Board of Trustees, the President of the University, or the University Secretary.

4. Removal. The Governor may remove a Trustee other than the President as provided by law. The Board may terminate the status of the President as a Trustee by terminating the President’s appointment as President of the University, subject to the rights, if any, of the President under a contract of employment.

5. Board Officers.
   a. Every three years, the Board shall select one of its members as Chair and another as Vice Chair, who shall be the Board Officers. The term for a board officer shall be approximately three years, or until death, resignation, removal or expiration of appointment as a Trustee within a term. The Chair and Vice Chair may be elected to consecutive terms. The Chair and Vice Chair may serve a maximum of two full terms in each respective position. The Chair and Vice Chair shall not be employees or students at the University and shall not, as Chair and Vice Chair, be authorized to bind the University. The Board may appoint such other Board Officers with such duties as the Board determines necessary or
b. In the event of a vacancy in the position of Chair, the Vice Chair shall, as soon as practicable, call a meeting of the Board for purposes of filling the vacancy; the Vice Chair shall temporarily assume the responsibilities of the Chair until such a meeting occurs and a new Chair is elected. A vacancy in the position of Vice Chair shall be filled by the Board at its next regular meeting. In the event of a vacancy in both positions simultaneously, the President shall facilitate a meeting of the Board, as soon as practicable, for the purpose of filling both vacancies.

c. The Chair shall establish the agenda for and preside at all meetings of the Board. The Chair shall perform such other duties as assigned by the Board. In the absence of the Chair or in the event of the Chair's inability to act, the Vice Chair shall perform the duties of the Chair, and when so acting, shall have the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon the Chair. The Vice Chair shall perform such other duties as assigned by the Board. The Chair may designate another trustee, who is not the President, to temporarily preside over a meeting.

d. Notwithstanding the appointment of a Chair and Vice Chair, authority is vested in the Board collectively and not in any individual Trustee. Individual trustees do not speak on behalf of the Board or the University unless authorized to do so by the Board or Chair. The Chair may speak on behalf of the Board and the University, unless otherwise determined by the Board.

e. A Board Officer serves at the pleasure of the Board. A Board Officer may be removed from office by a two-thirds majority vote of Trustees eligible to vote. A Board Officer may voluntarily relinquish his or her position as Chair or Vice Chair by submitting a letter of resignation to the Secretary with an effective date.

6. Compensation; Reimbursement of Expenses. A Trustee performing his or her official duties is not acting as an employee of the University and shall not receive a salary for Board service. In accordance with University policy and upon approval by first the Secretary and then the Treasurer of the University, a Trustee may be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the performance of official duties.

7. Faculty and Non-faculty Staff Trustees. The Faculty Trustee and Non-faculty Staff Trustee are each hereby granted reasonable leave with pay at their regular compensation as employees of the University to attend meetings of the Board and other official Board functions that occur during their normal work day. Nothing in this section 7 shall be deemed to alter the compensation of the faculty member or staff member for the performance of their duties as a University employee.

3. Other. The Board may adopt such other policies and standards pertaining to conflict of interest and ethics as the Board determines to be appropriate.

ARTICLE IX

Indemnity

1. Indemnification and Defense in General.
   a. The University shall defend and indemnify any Trustee or Officer (“Party”) against any Claim, whether groundless or otherwise, arising out of an alleged act or omission occurring in the performance of official duties. The University shall not provide indemnification and defense in case of malfeasance in office, willful or wanton neglect of duty, or in judicial or administrative action in which the Party is found to have violated the Oregon Government Ethics Law. The University may cease to provide indemnification or defense upon a determination by the University, in its sole discretion, that an act or omission may constitute criminal conduct.

   b. The University may choose to defend a Party under a reservation of rights. Any Party to whom the University is providing a defense shall cooperate fully with the University in the defense of such Claim. If the University determines, in its sole discretion, that such Party has not so cooperated or has otherwise acted to prejudice the defense of the Claim, the University may at any time terminate its defense and indemnity or proceed under a reservation of rights.

2. Legal Expenses when Claim is by a Governmental Entity or Professional Licensing Authority.
   a. Expenses incurred by a Party in the defense of a civil Claim by a governmental entity or a professional licensing authority may be advanced or reimbursed by the University if the University, in its sole discretion, determines that the civil Claim arose out of the Party’s performance of official duties. Such advancement or reimbursement constitutes part of the Party’s official compensation package for purposes of ORS Chapter 244. The University may decline to reimburse a Party for any expenses incurred prior to the University’s written commitment to provide reimbursement.

   b. Expenses shall be paid by the University in advance of the final disposition of a civil Claim described in this section 2 at the written request of the Party if:
PROPOSED REDLINES TO MARCH 2015 ADOPTED VERSION – DRAFT PROPOSED SPRING 2023

(1) The University determines, in its sole discretion, that the conduct of such Party was in good faith, and the Party reasonably believed that such conduct was in the best interests of, or not opposed to the best interests of, the University.

(2) The Party furnishes the University a written undertaking to repay such advance to the extent it is ultimately determined by the University, in its sole discretion, that such Party is not entitled to be indemnified by the University under this Article or under any other indemnification rights granted by the University to such Party.

Such advances shall be made without regard to the person’s ability to repay such advances.

3. Legal Representation. The General Counsel shall have the exclusive authority to select counsel and to defend against any Claim. The General Counsel will consult with the Party regarding any term of a settlement agreement that affects the legal rights of the Party.

4. Definition. The term “Claim” means any threatened, pending, or completed investigation, action, suit, or proceeding brought by a party other than the University.

5. Non-Exclusivity and Continuity of Rights. This Article: (i) shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled under any statute, agreement, general or specific action of the University or otherwise, both as to action in the official capacity of the person indemnified and as to action in another capacity while holding office, (ii) shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Party, (iii) shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, and administrators of such person.

6. Amendments. Any repeal of this Article shall only be prospective, and no repeal or modification hereof shall adversely affect the rights under this Article in effect at the time of the alleged occurrence of any action or omission to act that is the cause of any Claim or complaint.

Agenda Item #2

Presidential Goals
To: Members, Board of Trustees

From: Steve Holwerda, Chair

Date: September 1, 2023

Subject: FY2023 Presidential Goals

Dear Colleagues –

One of the critical items we are responsible for as a Board is the effective oversight and review of the university president. We have a history of conducting robust annual reviews of the president. The process is aided by establishing clear goals before the upcoming academic year. Our annual goal setting and review process is especially critical this year as President Scholz begins his presidency and sets the course for the university for years to come.

Our Board has high expectations for exceptional leadership to unite the university community, and achieve excellence to benefit our students, faculty, staff, all stakeholders, and society. Vice Chair Aaron and I have met regularly with President Scholz as a continuation from the hiring process to discuss Board expectations and desires. We provided feedback throughout the exercise, and before a draft was presented to the full board of trustees for comment and critique.

The trustee assessment and comments have been productive. In addition, they are aligned with expectations set during the hiring process.

We appreciate President Scholz’s commitment to making measurable progress on issues that matter to our students and the university community. Our Board will support his efforts in the coming year, but also monitor and measure the progress toward achieving expectations as a truly great public research university.

As always, thank you for your service to the University of Oregon, and please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Steve Holwerda
Chair
Great organizations do not just happen. They require clarity of purpose and a shared understanding of priorities, embraced across all levels of the organization. They require a foundation of strong leadership and a culture of internal and external engagement with attention to an even stronger sense of belonging through our focus on equity, diversity, and inclusion.

Over the coming year, I will focus on building organizational foundations, deepening relationships with our university and community stakeholders, and engaging broadly as I lead the university in establishing new institutional priorities to accelerate our positive trajectory. I propose to achieve these aspirations in the following ways:

1. Build an outstanding leadership team.

   During the 2023-24 academic year, I plan to conduct national searches to attract exceptional talent to fill the open or interim-filled leadership positions in University Communications, the Office of the Provost, and the Division of Student Life. During my first two months, I am pleased to have appointed Joe Buck as Vice President for Advancement and to have added the responsibility of overseeing Government and Community Relations to Tim Inman’s portfolio as a vice president.

2. Foster a strong culture of leadership and collaborative responsibility within the leadership team.

   During the next year I will establish strong relationships with those who report to me. I will ensure all the vice presidents, athletic director, and chief of staff are working effectively as a cohesive team. My objective is to create a culture in which these and all leaders work collaboratively and have clearly defined objectives, responsibilities, and accountability that are mutually embraced.

3. Build and deepen ties with the UO community through extensive engagement.

   A critical component of my work during the next year will be to strengthen my/our relationships with our students, staff, faculty, alumni, donors, community and state leaders, and national partners. I intend to do this through extensive engagement in public forums, rollout events, small and individual meetings, and calls, by touring the state and nation, and by continuing my meet and greet engagements on our campuses. My primary aspiration is – a “flourishing campus” – a campus where all students, staff and faculty can and will thrive.

   As higher education and the world continue to rapidly change, I will pay close attention to deepening ties with policy makers, politicians, businesses, and community leaders across Oregon through consistent and authentic interactions. This is imperative as we continue to inform our stakeholders about the important benefits of higher education in preparing future leaders, supporting economic prosperity, and creating a flourishing society.

4. Support the university’s objectives through philanthropy and set the stage for expanded support and engagement.

   The University of Oregon has been extraordinarily successful in inspiring our friends and donors to support our students, research, and community impact. This next year I intend to build on this success and help to position University Advancement for achievement under new leadership to prepare for the next fundraising campaign that broadens and deepens philanthropic participation.

   This will include considering options for fundraising for student success and other institutional priorities while creating procedures for goal setting, communication, volunteer structure, and prospect identification in anticipation of our next full campaign.

5. Position the university to provide stability, visibility, and future academic/athletic conference success.

   Joining the Big Ten, the preeminent athletic-academic conference in the country, provides stability and visibility for the university and UO student-athletes. We will leverage this visibility to enhance alumni relations and student recruiting, and work to enhance the academic enterprise through new opportunities with the Big Ten Academic Alliance.

   My goal for this year is to support this transition in ways that increase the stability, opportunity, visibility, and resources for our institution, while also being a good partner to public universities in Oregon.

6. Establish the university’s roadmap for success and flourishing in the years to come.

   Over the year I will engage the university community to build a shared set of priorities and goals, with the intention of developing stakeholder buy-in for a coherent plan that guides our strategic decision-making.

   The overarching goal of this exercise will be to deliver a clear, focused plan that sets priorities and goals to enhance the experience we provide our students, amplify the contributions of our research and scholarship to our communities and the world, and ensure our university environment is one where everyone can flourish.

Re: Status of Open Recommendations

Attached you will find the Status of Open Recommendations. This report is provided to you each quarter to provide visibility into the status of prior audit recommendations.

Management has discussed revised action plans for more than one recommendation involving more than one project. Audit agrees with the revisions and target completion dates will be updated as timelines are developed.

Multiple target completion dates have been revised. Delays result from vacancies and limited capacity. As transitions occur within units, internal audit begins communicating and collaborating with new leadership and often resets the target completion dates. Interactions with vendors also contribute to delays, at times. Projects with revised target completion dates are indicated in the accompanying schedule with an asterisk.

Six recommendations closed this quarter.

Management continues to respond to audit recommendations and provide status updates when requested.

Two recommendations are shown as due from the Vendor Review audit. Purchasing and Contracting Services (PCS) has developed a multi-step plan to address these recommendations after complications with a key vendor led to major revisions to the initial action plan. New target dates will be set as the plan is firmed up so that realistic timeframes are documented. PCS and OIA are in agreement with the steps to be taken and communicate frequently regarding the project.

Ongoing Reminders:

The previously agreed-upon risk ratings have been incorporated into the Open Recommendations report. Over time, management will implement the unrated recommendations and that portion of the table will no longer be reported. University ratings are provided to assist you in your governance over internal audit recommendations.

In order to provide the most relevant information, projects are no longer listed in this schedule once all recommendations have been implemented. Previously reported recommendations, for recent fiscal years, are represented as open or closed in the graphical representation at the bottom of the schedule.

Risk Assessment Methodology and Internal Audit Plan

FY24 - OFFICE OF INTERNAL AUDIT
BACKGROUND

The Institute of Internal Auditors’ (IIA) International Professional Practices Framework (IPPF) requires the chief audit executive to establish a risk-based plan to determine priorities for the internal audit function.

Risk assessment activities are a normal part of internal audit and a routine framework by which auditors interpret information. Additional emphasis on these activities occurs to develop an annual plan.

METHODOLOGY

Mission Statement

The mission of internal audit is to enhance and protect organizational value by providing risk-based and objective assurance, advice, and insight.

Activities

Internal Audit engages in four primary activities – assurance, advisory/consulting, investigations, and education/training services.

- Assurance: risk-based structured evaluation that often leads to recommendations to strengthen the internal control system.

- Advisory/Consulting: can also be risk-based and tends to be more current state/future stated focused while assurance may be looking at transactions that have already been recorded.

- Investigations: includes hotline reports, referrals from others at UO, and direct contacts. Often investigations received become the shared responsibility of more than one UO unit.

- Education/training: recent training topics include fraud and internal controls, and IT audit concepts.
Audit Resources

The OIA is supplemented by Finance and Shared Services (FASS) for administrative support and by Baker Tilly for IT audit services/consultations.

Risk Assessment

Multiple sources of information inform the audit plan, including, but not limited to:

- External to UO
  - Higher Education Risk Trends
  - Information Technology Risk Trends
  - Regulatory and Compliance Updates
  - Higher Education Internal Audit peers and Association

- Internal to UO
  - SERMC Risk Exposure Matrix
  - UO News and Highlights
  - Collaborative discussions
  - Organizational changes
  - OIA results and insights

The internal audit plan is predominately risk-based with a small amount of recurring required work. Required projects have specific procedures associated to their objectives and they address risks identified by others. For FY24, required projects include NCAA Attendance Confirmation, a specific Scholarship Recipient Eligibility Confirmation, and a quality assurance review of internal audit with an external component.

Working closely with the Strategic Enterprise Risk Management Committee (SERMC) throughout the year allows us to continually monitor management’s response to risk, challenges to implementing controls, and the resulting residual risk. Monthly meetings in which candid conversation about operations facilitate the sharing of information and risks and strategy are disclosed and play a major role in the internal audit risk assessment process.
Other inputs to the plan include the changing regulatory and compliance environment in which the university operates. Close monitoring of our higher education internal audit peers and headlines stimulates a response ranging from conversations with management to audit projects determined by the risk level at UO.

Importantly, the internal audit team routinely records Risks for Consideration into our departmental working papers. This listing includes detailed information an auditor learned from a project that was deemed out of scope for that project but deserves a second look. Ultimately, a column is populated with an agreed-upon resolution for that line item. Resolution options include more information needed, added to audit plan, prepare for consultation, or notes from a discussion with management that provide a conclusion. This document is discussed periodically to assess the escalation of projects denoted for audit plan that have no imminent project planned. You may see these audits on the plan in Tier II or III when there is no escalation or urgency to that audit being completed.

Requests for our work often come from management but can also come from executives, the board, and internal audit team members. Discussion is held to assess the concern and define the level of urgency. Additional planning is used to determine whether an audit project or a consultation should be planned.

Many risk-based projects were available for the audit plan. The plan you see proposed here is designed to include required projects and risk-based projects. Tier I includes projects we plan, as of now, to initiate during the year. Tiers II and III include projects that may substitute for Tier I projects. Reasons for substitution include penetrating or key personnel turnover in the area, implementation of new process or primary application within the process being reviewed, and the imminent need to complete one project over another. Projects placed in Tiers II and III are likely to be moved into Tier I in subsequent years, absent new or escalating risks not addressed in this plan. While we are hopeful to initiate Tier I projects during FY24, we recognize that we will not complete all of Tier I during the year.

*Listed are projects we plan to initiate as circumstances beyond our control contribute heavily to delays, at times.

Objectives for required audits:

- Scholarship Recipient Eligibility Confirmation: The objective is to provide assurance that can ultimately be shared with the award sponsors that the selected recipient meets their stated criteria. An additional objective is to confirm the award’s receipt by the selected recipient.
- NCAA Attendance Confirmation: The objective is to confirm attendance recorded at UO home football games meets or exceeds the NCAA’s required threshold.

Preliminary objectives for Tier I risk-based audits:

- Athletics Revenue Contract Payments: The preliminary objective is to confirm payments received by UO Athletics align with contract terms and conditions. This review is not likely to involve the contract negotiation process but will focus on an analysis of payments received reviewing for conformance to the contract terms. The audit will begin with a selection of the contract(s) to be analyzed.
- Conflict of Interest/Commitment Process: The preliminary objective is to determine whether the process of identifying conflicts is optimally managed and there is consistency in the process for management plans, as needed.
- External Quality Assurance of the Office of Internal Audit: The Institute of Internal Auditors describes an external component to assessing the operations of the internal audit activity and recommends this component every 5 years.
• Distributed Compliance (Consultation): This project includes an evaluation of distributed positions with compliance responsibilities, staffing for those positions including percentage of FTE dedicated to compliance, and the compliance activities being performed.
• Identity Management: This project will review the identity management controls that safeguard the confidentiality and integrity of systems and data by restricting users to only the rights needed to fulfill authorized actions.
• Data Center – Eugene Campus: Widely accepted guidance for data centers includes physical and technical safeguards designed to facilitate the security and reliability of the data held within. This project will review the university’s Eugene data centers’ implementation of those safeguards.

Preliminary objectives for Tier II risk-based audits:
• Clery Act Compliance: The Clery Act requires universities with police departments or security departments to maintain certain crime data. Also required is a report that includes Clery reportable crimes. This project will review the adequacy of the process that informs the Clery Report for the university.
• ESG Reporting: Environmental, Social, and Governance reporting requirements are increasing and are becoming more impactful to reputation. This project will review reports made by UO and the data sources linked to those reports.
• Policy Governance Review: The preliminary objective for this review is to assess the governance processes for policy review. Upon dissolution of the Oregon University System, each university inherited the responsibility for developing their own policies. This review will include what is known at UO as Big P Policies though a similarly structured process might occur at the department or unit level.
• Construction Project: Construction projects begin with an idea, require funding, and are governed by architectural drawings and a contract. This project is not yet defined and will likely be determined by the type of contract utilized for the construction project.
• Environmental: This project is not yet defined but will have a regulatory/compliance component.
• Data Center – other location(s): Widely accepted guidance for data centers includes physical and technical safeguards designed to facilitate the security and reliability of the data held within. This project will review data centers’ (other than Eugene) implementation of those safeguards.
• Knight Campus IT Risk Assessment: An IT risk assessment project will provide foundational knowledge of risks particular to the Knight Campus. Of particular interest, will be exploring the necessary requirements for expansion of research project types.
• Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery: The primary objectives of a business continuity plan are to limit downtime during a business interruption, protect personnel in the event of a disaster, minimize financial losses due to a disruptive incident and restore critical business functions and infrastructure following an incident. This project will review the business continuity and disaster recovery plans.

- FASS IT Risk Assessment: Increasing in popularity and use at UO, FASS IT services will undergo a risk assessment to evaluate the appropriateness of controls in this decentralized environment.

Preliminary Objectives for Tier III risk-based projects:

- National Security and Research: Undue influence in research generally occurs within the following categories: peer review violations, foreign employment arrangements, or overlap or over-commitment supporting a foreign grant or research effort. This project will examine the university’s processes for protection in these areas and conformance to updated guidance.

- Custody of Human Remains, Phase II: This project will be initiated soon after management actions from Phase I can be confirmed as complete. Phase I recommendations included the development of an inventory and the implementation of work group recommendations. Phase II will include audit procedures for the inventories.

- Background Screening Processes: This review will take an in-depth look at the various background screens completed that occur pre-hire and upon internal transfer.

- Research Data Security: Controls for research data security begin prior to accepting research projects and continue through the life of the research project and include records management, retention, and possibly destruction. The preliminary objective for this project is to assess those data security controls.

- Centers and Institutes: Certain centers and institutes operate IT environments at UO and are not directly connected to VPRI or ISO. The preliminary objective for this review is to assess research data controls.

Re: Annual Governance Confirmations

The OIA’s activities are governed by Standards promulgated by the Institute of Internal Auditors, known as the International Professional Practices Framework. The following required communications fulfill the governance obligations contained therein:

Organizational Independence

The OIA must confirm to the board, at least annually, the organizational independence of the internal audit activity. UO’s OIA reports administratively to the President’s Office and functionally to the Executive, Audit, and Governance Committee (EAGC) of the Board of Trustees. Reporting functionally to the EAGC promotes the independence necessary for the OIA to adequately perform its job function.

Organizational independence remains intact.

Impairments to Independence or Objectivity

If independence or objectivity is impaired in fact or appearance, the details of the impairment must be disclosed.

There were no impairments to independence or objectivity for any activities performed during the reporting period.

Disclosure of Nonconformance

Rarely, circumstances require the completion of projects/engagements in a manner that is not consistent with all applicable standards. When this occurs, the OIA must disclose the nonconformance and the impact to executive management and the board.

During the reporting year, there were no instances in which projects were performed in a manner that did not comply with applicable standards.

Resolution of Management’s Acceptance of Risks

Each audit engagement can potentially reveal items that may pose risks to university operations. Some items will require management’s attention while others may be situations in which management decides to accept the risk associated with the current practice. This is normal in limited circumstances and is often due to cost/benefit or capacity constraints. The OIA is required to disclose to executive management and the board any situations in which it believes University personnel have accepted a level of residual risk that may not adequately reduce/mitigate the risk of loss.

There have been no such instances during the current reporting year.
